

Question #49895, Chemistry, Physical Chemistry

the ionic radius of cation is always

Answer:

The ionic radius of the cation is always larger than the radius of an atom or an anion of the same element.

For example:

	Atomic radius	radius of cation
F	73 pm	133 pm
Cl	100 pm	181pm