

Answer on Question #52886 – Chemistry – Organic Chemistry

The full hydrogenation of one mole of triglyceride containing glycerol, oleic acid, linoleic acid and palmitic acid requires six moles of H₂.

An equation of the full hydrogenation of this triglyceride:

