

Answer on Question #49222, Economics, Other

Is capitalism a good or bad thing?

Capitalism gives a full opportunity for self-realization. For example, America as the most capitalist country in the world is the richest country, with one of the highest levels of life. And there are both positive and negative aspects of capitalism.

Positive:

- it has made rapid strides main productive force - the man, raised its educational, qualification, and cultural levels;
- created the most dynamic incentives to work;
- increased the standard of living of employees;
- increased life expectancy.

Negative:

- the existence of private property, which is characterized by the means of production monopolization by the small mass of the society;
- alienation laborers from production management and property;
- mass unemployment, significant stratification of citizens, economic crises and so on.

<https://www.AssignmentExpert.com>