

The demand for healthy food and other goods and services will increase, it will cause the price and quantity to increase.

The demand for unhealthy food and other goods and services will decrease, it will cause the price and quantity to decrease.