

Answer on Question #46509 – Math – Statistics and Probability

True or False. Justify

If a control chart shows that the points are very close to the central line, then the process is in control.

Solution:

True

If points are very close to control then the process is in control. It means that there are not big amount of outliers that need additional control.