

Question #9887

Prove that  $n^2 - n$  is divisible by 2 for every positive integers n.

Solution. Write  $n^2 - n = n(n - 1)$ . n and  $n - 1$  are consecutive integer numbers, thus one of them must be even, hence the product is divisible by 2.