

Question 32302

Area in m^2 as a function of time is $A(t) = 3t^2 + \pi$. The rate of increase of area is by definition the derivative of $A(t)$ with respect to t . Hence, $rate = \frac{dA}{dt} = 6t$.