

Answer on Question #47010, Physics, Optics

Light is a form of energy that: is transported from place to place due to the temperature gradient; requires material media for its propagation; stimulates the sensation of sight; cannot be diffracted.

Solution

Light is a form of energy that stimulates the sensation of sight.