

Answer on question #52052, Physics, Optics

Question When light (or other electromagnetic radiation) travels across a given region a. what is it that oscillates? b. what is it that is transported?

Solution a. The amplitude of electrostatic and magnetic field oscillates.
b. The energy and impulse is transported.

<http://www.AssignmentExpert.com/>