

Answer on Question #54362-Physics-Electromagnetism

When an e^- is released between two capacitor plates where it will hit?

Answer

An electron will hit the positive plate of capacitor. It is because electron has negative charge and opposite charges attract each other.

<http://www.AssignmentExpert.com/>