

That the image formed outside a concave mirror easily to see.

For this purpose it is possible to direct the image on an extraneous surface (sheet of paper, wall) as a screen. On a surface of a spoon the image is not generated.

The surface reflect rays of light only, just as in water reflect sun rays and we see “sun in the river”. If the mirror is high quality (not a spoon), the image not be “visible on a surface”.