

Question#9067

A swimmer wants to reach to a point just opposite on the other bank of the river. How should he swim and why?

Answer:

If a swimmer want to reach to a point just opposite on the other bank of the river, he must swim at an angle toward a watercourse. Reason of it that the watercourse takes down the swimmer.

